

ABSTRACT

Title: Analysis of competitive soccer system in Czech Republic.

Objectives: The main objective of the thesis is evaluation of two top current czech soccer leagues. Secondary objective is to find out opinions for possible modifications of the competition.

Methods: It has been assembled a survey for discovery all objectives and it has been sent by electronic post to the respondents. Target group was compiled by coaches, first league players, journalist and officials. Survey has been returned for 44% of all respondents.

Results: We found out, that current system of our two top leagues is for majority of respondents suitable. Medial ratings of Gambrinus liga is equal with its quality and medial ratings of football national league is low.

Keywords: number of matches in the season, medial ratings of leagues, modification of the leagues, Football national league, workload of players